Branson Airport Salutes Our Veterans

BRANSON, MO (November 11, 2011)—The Branson Airport, throughout the year, honors our military veterans and active service men and women. During Veteran’s Homecoming Week, thousands of veterans from all branches of service arrive at the Branson Airport to participate in numerous ceremonies and activities. It’s at this time we would like to pay special tribute to the men and women who have sacrificed so much for our country.

We are truly honored to have 16 employees currently working at the Branson Airport who have served in different branches of the armed forces. At this time we would like to give our sincere thanks for their past service to our great country and for the sacrifices they made during that time.

On Monday, November 14, 2011, we have the distinct honor of having Marine and Navy trainer planes land at the Branson JetCenter. Trainers will be met by a retired Lieutenant Colonel of the Marines Corps, who is a former Blue Angel Pilot.
